WILSON'S FAITH IN SECRETARY BRYAN

California Legislature Will Doubtless Await His Appearance.

TO ARRIVE ON MONDAY

No Further Conference With Japanese
Officials Until Mr. Bryan Shall Have Returned.

Washington, April 24.—President Wilson does not believe there will be any attempt to embarrass him by legislative action on the Japanese question in California before Secretary of State Bryan reaches Sacramento next Monday afternoon. He is satisfied that the invitation to the Secretary of State was made in good faith and that there will be an honest effort on the part of California officials to meet the treaty limitations in their proposed legislation.

The President and Secretary Bryan have thoroughly canvassed the entire problem, and they are certain that they have reached the line beyond which California must go. This will all be communicated to Governor Johnson by Mr. Bryan, and it is believed certain that California will consider carefully any legislation which goes beyond the danger mark.

The President believes there has been too much said about the matter already, and from now on the theatre of operation will be transferred to the Pacific coast. The President considers that his public utterances and the dispatch of his chief cabinet officer to the California capital has been enough to assure Japan that this country is protecting her interests.

Consequently there will be no further conferences between the Japanese until after Mr. Bryan has gone over the question with Governor Johnson and the legislative leaders.

BATTLES WITH BANDITS.

People Scamper When Bullets Fly in New York.

New York, April 24.—Four men, armed with magazine pistols, fought a running battle with policemen in Williamsburg yesterday after they robbed a junkman and attempted a daylight hold-up of the Havemeyer Sugar Refinery's paymaster, who guarded $10,000 in small bills. The paymaster's wagon was in south Sixth street, with Patrolman Royale twenty feet in the rear, when four young men ran out of the junk shop of Philip Fogelman, South Sixth st., and Wythe avenue.

The police followed two who remained in sight, for the other bandits rushed toward the river front and were lost in the crowd. The running fire was continued all through South Fifth street to Bedford avenue, a run of several blocks. There the bandits seemed to run out of ammunition and when the pursuing policemen overtook them they stood calmly awaiting arrest.

People ran to cover when the shooting began. Sixth avenue, between Fourteenth and Eighteenth streets, was the scene of a daring hold-up early yesterday, in which a black taxicab, used by the highwaymen, served as a target for the shooting stopped the machine. The three bandits were arrested, one after a chase up the elevated stairs. The man who was held up was Isaac Swimer, an electrical engineer.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

Jealousy, it is said, caused Willey Miller, of York, Pa., to attempt to kill his wife and Robert Aby, a boarder, at her home. Miller has been separated from his wife for some time but at an early hour yesterday morning he visited his home and when he found his wife in the company of Robert Aby, he drew a revolver and fired four shots. Two of the shots went wild, but the other two took effect, one hitting Mrs. Miller in the left arm, the other inflicting a wound in Aby's right arm. Miller was prevented from firing any more shots by his twelve-year-old son, who grappled with him and wrested the revolver from his grasp. Miller ran from the house and attempted suicide by jumping into the Codorus Creek. He was fished out, however, by several patrolmen, and taken to the city prison.

Following the refusal of the Chamber of Deputies on Tuesday night to order an election for July 27, the plan of Provisional Huerta to hold the presidency of Mexico, despite his promise to Felix Diaz to hold an election, caused Diaz yesterday to renew preparations to oust Huerta by force and seize the government. Diaz has 8,000 men in the arsenal at Mexico and 2,000 at the Noriega ranch, twenty miles outside of the city, and is enlisting more from Oaxaca, the native state of the Diaz family. Diaz has Pablo Norhey in New Orleans and Adolfo Bori in New York buying arms and ammunition. He is said to be backed by Teodoro Dehesa, Enrique Creel and Alfredo Terrazas.

Nelson Wanamaker, 45 years old, son of the late Samuel Wanamaker, a widely known clothing merchant, and a nephew of John Wanamaker, of Philadelphia, choked to death on a piece of meat yesterday, while eating lunch in a restaurant. Mr. Wanamaker could not dislodge the morsel and he fell to the floor. He was carried to a hospital, but died before a physician could aid him.

New York police were searching last night for a young woman said to be Miss Romona Borden, the 17-year-old daughter of Gail Borden, millionaire condensed milk manufacturer, who, according to the nurse's story was taken from a sanatorium at Pompton Lake, N. J., where she had been taking a rest cure, by two strange women yesterday. The women appeared in an automobile and invited the girl to ride with them, the nurse declared. The nurse accompanied the young woman for the drive and to a Newark Hotel, where the other women eluded the nurse and drove off.

Between twelve and fifteen men were killed by a premature blast in a stone quarry at Riverside, Cal., last night.

Count Brechtold, the Austrian foreign minister, forwarded a note from Vienna to the great powers last night, asking them to take measures to force Montenegro to evacuate Scutari within forty-eight hours. There is a strong feeling that the crisis must be terminated, and if the powers are unable to force their will in the Albanian family, they must give Austria a mandate to do so. It is reported that the Austrian troops at Buda and Cattana, near the Montenegrin frontier, have been ordered to hold themselves in readiness for immediate movement.

Although a majority of the school children of Pittsburgh remained away from their studies yesterday, there were few demonstrations in the unique strike inaugurated Monday against the retention of S. L. Heaver as superintendent of public schools. Sixty thousand children are on strike.

Five miners are dead and ninety-six entombed in the burning Cincinnati mine of the Pittsburg Coal Company, at Courtney, Pa., where a violent explosion took place yesterday afternoon. At the time of the explosion there were 179 workers in the mine. Seventy-eight of these succeeded in reaching the surface. The explosion caused a cave-in, and all ventilation and compressed air pipes have been broken. Rescue parties from all over this section are working heroically to reach the entombed miners, but it is feared that many will suffocate before aid can reach them. The death list, it is stated, is practically certain to run over 100. Paint rappings growing continually less distinct, have been heard by the rescue parties.

MONTENEGRO IS ALARMING EUROPE

Likelihood of Russia Bolting Alliance Causes Great Anxiety.

SITUATION IS ACUTE.

England Will Ask Powers to Heed
Austria's Plea to Compel Montenegro to Abandon Scutari.

London, April 24.—The ambassadors were asked by Sir Edward Grey, foreign secretary, to meet again this afternoon at the Foreign office to consider the formal note to the powers by the Austro-Hungarian foreign minister here, demanding that Montenegro be compelled to give up Scutari.

The European situation, since King Nicholas went ahead and took the Turkish stronghold, is ridiculous, as well as acute. The peace of Europe almost may be said to be in the balance. The solution of the problem, diplomats concede, depends upon the attitude of Russia. Dispatches from St. Petersburg today said that great ministerial activity followed the announcement of Scutari's fall.

If Russia remains with the Triple Alliance, there is hope that Montenegro may be persuaded, peacefully, to give up Scutari. But reports say that Russia is suddenly stirred by a wave of Pan-Slavism, and it is admitted to be a remote possibility that Russia might refuse to concur in any scheme to coerce the little Slav kingdom.

The international fleet today still stood off Antivari, blockading the Montenegrin coast, and the French admiral had received no reply to his ultimatum of two days ago, threatening to land troops if King Nicholas did not lift the siege of Scutari.

It is said in all quarters that the Powers have in no wise abandoned their intention to make Scutari the capital of Albania, but how they are going about it without making matters worse, is a question of absorbing interest to those who have watched the Balkan war from its beginning.

A dispatch from Constantinople said that the armistices among Turkey, Bulgaria, Serbia, and Greece, have been extended to May 5.

AUTO KILLS COLORED GIRL.

Doctor's Car Run Down Child Crossing Street.

Philadelphia, April 24.—While playing on Twenty-fourth street Jefferson late yesterday afternoon, 6-year-old Ida Moore, colored, ran in front of an automobile driven by Dr. Herbert Baldwin and was killed almost instantly. The child was thrown to the pavement and crushed beneath the auto's wheels. Dr. Baldwin gave himself up to the police. He was later discharged following a hearing in City Hall.

ANOTHER ALARM.

Senator Thinks Southern Republics
Are Making Combinations.

Springfield, Ill., April 24.—The United States is in prospect of war with Japan; it has a disturbance with England over the Panama Canal treaty, and Mexico and Central America are enemies of this country, according to the views of United States Senator James Hamilton Lewis, as expressed by him last night in an address before a joint session of the Illinois Legislature.

CARDINALS WIN EASILY.

Defeat Center Market Yesterday by
Score of 14 to 4.

The Cardinals walked away with the team representing Center Market yesterday, easily defeating them by the overwhelming score of 14 to 4. Kettler who started to twirl for the Meat Chopper proved to be easy pickings for the heavy hitting Cardinals who garnered 15 hits and 10 runs during his stay on the slab which lasted 3 innings. He was relieved by J. Pesanago, who pitched fairly well, allowing only 4 hits and 4 runs, during the remaining 4 innings. Risdon, pitched the slab for the Cardinals and pitched a very creditable game although he allowed 12 bingles, but they were scattered. He was given almost errorless support only one error being made.

The only features of the game was the heavy hitting of the Cardinals and the home run hit by Bury over center field fence.

The Cardinals will play Alexandria High School Saturday, this being the first game in the series of three.

FATHER'S TERRIBLE DEED.

Norfolk Lawyer Shoots Son And Kills Himself.

New York, April 24.—William Vincent Robbins, a Yale graduate and a lawyer with offices here and in Norfolk, Va., took his son, William Douglas Robbins, 9 years old, to the Buffalo Bill performance yesterday afternoon, and then shot and fatally wounded the boy and killed himself by cutting his throat in the apartments of his brother-in-law, Clarence R. Levy, on Madison avenue.

As Mr. Robbins and his wife had not been living together for several months and as his efforts to effect a reconciliation had failed, the police assumed that the lawyer became maniacally unbalanced and deliberately arranged the shooting of his son and his own death in the absence from the city of his wife.

A sister of Mrs. Robbins died in the Madison avenue apartments about two weeks ago, and following the funeral Mrs. Robbins and another sister, Miss Minnie Levy, went to Atlantic City, from where they were expected to return today.

Knowing that his wife was out of the city, Mr. Robbins telephoned to the Levy apartments yesterday morning, that if she would have his son Douglas meet him in front of Madison Square Garden at 2 o'clock he would take him to the Buffalo Bill performance. The boy met his father and saw the performance.

It was after 7 o'clock when they reached the Levy apartments, on the third floor of the twelve-story building. The maid observed that the father seemed exceptionally affectionate to the boy.

The girl was startled at about 8 o'clock by hearing five pistol shots. She ran to a bedroom and saw Mr. Robbins lying across the bed, with a razor by his side. At his feet was the body of his son.

When a Flower hospital ambulance arrived the father was dead. Dr. Keating hurried the boy to the hospital, where he died three hours afterward.

The mother, in Atlantic City was not notified of the tragedy last night.

WILLING TO DIE IN CHAIR.

Condemned Man Asks Judge to Nolle
Appeal for New Trial.

New York, April 24.—"Happy Jack" Mulroney, recently reprieved from the death chair for 60 days on the plea that he had allowed himself to be wrongfully convicted of the murder of "Paddy the Priest," because he was unwilling to "squeal on a pal," has written to Judge Rosalsky that he was "willing to take his medicine" and asked that proceedings in his application for a new trial abandoned.

Judge Rosalsky refused to make the letter public, and it could not be learned whether Mulroney admitted guilt. Nearly a score of witnesses have testified in behalf of Mulroney, and Judge Rosalsky made two trips to Sing Sing prison to hear the convicted man's version of the murder. At first Mulroney said that the "real murderers" were Jack Dowling, now dead, and Martin Fink, and that he himself was home drunk on the night of the tragedy. Later he offered a new version, accusing another man.

DEBATE BEGINS ON TARIFF REVISION

Republicans, Democrats and Progressives Engage in The Clash.

MAY CLOSE ON FRIDAY.

Republicans Will Have Another "Open Door" Conference Tonight—May Bring in Sugar Bill.

Washington, April 24.—The wordy war over tariff revision was resumed today in the House. Republicans, Democrats and Progressives clashed in bitter partisan debate, with most of the speeches for "home consumption" delivered before a small floor but large gallery audience.

The House met at 11 o'clock today, an hour earlier than usual. That the battle of words would continue until 7 or 8 o'clock tonight was predicted by the head leaders. Tomorrow night sessions will be begun.

Majority Leader Underwood stated today that it might be possible to close the "general debate" Friday night or Saturday, instead of Monday, as agreed upon by the House.

The Democrats are conserving their tariff broadsides for use when the bill is considered in detail next week.

The Republicans of the House will have another "open door" conference tonight and a further effort to determine the details of the tariff policy to be followed by the party in combating the Underwood bill. Chief differences among the Republicans thus far have been whether they shall put substitutes for the various Democratic schedules or allow the Underwood bill to pass, after making gloomy prophecies as to the future.

It has already been decided by a rather decisive vote that some sort of substitutes shall be offered for the Democratic wool and cotton schedules, but the rates of these substitutes have not been agreed upon. In order to reach an agreement on this point, the conference will be held tonight.

There is some possibility that the Republicans will also bring in a sugar bill of their own.

As soon as the tariff matters have been disposed of, a resolution backed by Massachusetts Republicans will be presented. It provides that the conference go on record endorsing the plan to cut Republican representation in the Southern states in Republican national conventions down to the basis of actual voting strength. The resolution urges that a special Republican national convention be called for the purpose of amending the rules of the Republican national committee in this respect.

MONTAGUE WIELDS GAVEL.

New Virginia Representative Called
To Preside in Place of Champ
Clark.

Washington, April 24.—Congressman A. J. Montague yesterday presided over the House. Immediately after that body taking up the new tariff bill for consideration, Congressman Garrett, of Tennessee, who had already been asked to take charge of the proceedings while the House is in committee of the whole to consider the bill, started the bill on its way, and in a little while called the new Virginia representative to the chair and asked if he would preside. Smiling, he did not threaten to do any damage to any one, but from the way he rapped for order now and then, he was clearly on the job.

The general public are cordially invited to tomorrow's ceremony as the invitation is not limited to members of the order alone.

WOUNDS WIFE AND RIVAL.

Then Grieving Husband Vainly Tries To Drown Himself.

York, Pa., April 24.—After forcing an entrance into the home of Robert Aby and shooting his wife and Aby, each through the arm, Willey Miller, a North End hostler, jumped into the Codorus Creek, nearby, early yesterday morning in an attempt to end his own life.

Detective Cookes and several policemen who had taken up the chase procured a boat and saved him from drowning. They found him holding pressed against his breast a photo of his baby boy, to whom he was greatly attached.

Miller claims that Aby broke up his family some time ago, causing his arrest for an alleged elopement with his wife. Recently Mrs. Miller took her four children and went to live with Aby, as his housekeeper.

The aim of the desperate man last night was spoiled by his 12-year-old son, Howard, who bravely leaped upon him and got the revolver after a struggle. The wounds of Aby and the woman are not regarded as serious. Miller is in jail.

PATIENT LEAPS TO DEATH.

Delirious Motorman Jumps Four Stories at Camden Hospital.

Philadelphia, April 24.—Leaping through glass and ash from the fourth story of Cooper Hospital, Camden, yesterday morning, William Ryan, 26 years old, a motorman, died in a short time from fractured legs and internal injuries. The nurses had been warned that Ryan was suffering from a mania to do harm to himself, and when his nurse from a distance saw him preparing to leave his bed she gave an alarm. Other nurses responded, and the man took the leap after he fought the nurses away.

He was admitted to the hospital as a supposed victim of pneumonia. Several days ago he rushed into the bathroom with a razor in hand, and was prevented from doing any injury to himself by the physician, who happened to be at the house.

VARDAMAN SIDES WITH CALIFORNIA

Says State's Action is Declaration of Anglo-Saxon Supremacy.

WHITE RACE AT STAKE

To Maintain Supremacy Commingling
of Races Must Be Prohibited—Race
Problem of the South.

Washington, April 24.—The stand taken by the people of California regarding the alien land law is "a declaration in favor of Anglo-Saxon supremacy," according to Senator Vardaman, of Mississippi. Mr. Vardaman declared today that he had rather cut off all business intercourse with the entire Orient than sacrifice the interest of the white people of even one small section of the State of California.

"Race purity is indispensable to Caucasian supremacy," declared. "The only way to maintain that supremacy is to prohibit by law the commingling of the races."

He declared the Jap is not so undesirable as a citizen as the negro in some of the Southern States. The race question in California, he said, will call attention of the people to the race problem in the South.

Senator Vardaman says: "It is very gratifying to me to observe the stand taken by the people of California on the question of alien ownership of land. Stripped of all unnecessary verbiage, it simply means a declaration in favor of Anglo-Saxon supremacy."

"This is a white man's government, and, therefore, must remain a white man's country."

"If to prohibit the Japanese from leasing and holding land in California would lose the friendship and interfere with our business intercourse with the Japanese people, I should very cheerfully make the sacrifice. I should rather cut off all business relations with the Japanese empire—yes, I will make it the Orient—than to sacrifice the interest of the white people of the state of California."

"Race purity is indispensable to Caucasian supremacy. And the only way to maintain that supremacy is to prohibit it by law the co-mingling of the races."

"I congratulate the people of California upon their independence, and, regardless of what may follow, I hope they will pass the law."

WARRANT OUT FOR BIXBY.

Millionaire Wanted as Witness in White Slave Case.

Los Angeles, Cal., April 24.—A bench warrant was issued yesterday for the arrest of George H. Bixby, a Long Beach millionaire named in connection with the white slavery case for which Mrs. Josie Rosenberg was arrested recently.

He failed to answer a subpoena as a witness in the Rosenberg case when the woman was arraigned yesterday afternoon.

A heira of prospective witnesses followed the announcement that the county grand jury would begin yesterday an investigation of the allegation that more than 40 girls or young women of the city had been made the victims of millionaire white slavers.

Chief among the missing was Geo. H. Bixby, the Long Beach millionaire named in charges made by a number of girls. Detectives searched nearly all of Tuesday night for Bixby and reported yesterday that they were unable to find him.

Among the witnesses asked to testify was E. J. Fleming, a prominent attorney and former member of the District Attorney's staff. The District Attorney's staff, of the Long Beach Club, charged with being chief of the preparers of the "Black Pearl" and his millionaire associates, was arraigned on one of five charges of pandering, but her case was set aside pending the outcome of the grand jury inquiry. WOODHOUNDS ON TRAIL.

Store And Store at Taylorsville Entered by Thieves.

April 24.—Burglars entered the store of Baughan & Co. here Tuesday and made away with $100 worth of goods of various descriptions. When one of the dogs came to the building yesterday morning to open for the day's business, he found the rear door open, being forced with a jimmy.

Local authorities immediately notified, and instructions were given to keep every one away from the store, as it was decided to send several bloodhounds from Richmond. The dogs arrived here at 10 o'clock and at once were taken to the store. They picked up the trail within a few minutes, but were running for a short distance, lost.

At this time word reached here that the store at Taylorsville, about four miles away, had been entered in the same manner and goods of considerable value stolen. When the dogs failed to pick up the trail, it was decided to take them to Taylorsville, where it was thought that both robberies were committed by the same crooks.

SHELLFISH MEN AT NORFOLK.

Dr. Stokes and W. H. Maltbie Speak Before National Association.

Norfolk, Va., April 24.—The opening session of the fifth annual convention of the National Association of Shellfish Commissioners was held here yesterday. Questions of vital importance to the oyster industry of Maryland and Virginia and other states in which this industry is extensively carried on were considered.

Dr. J. Hyde Pratt, of North Carolina, president of the association, in his opening address, declared that the problems that have been and are still confronting the shellfish men should be considered as State and not local issues.

Virginia is one of the few South Atlantic States that has taken a decided practical step looking toward the conservation and perpetuation of her shellfish industry, and through the conscientious work of her able commissioner, W. McDonald Lee, she has reached the place where she can point with pride to what the State is accomplishing in the oyster industry.

Governor Mann was scheduled to speak next, but was unable to attend. Dr. George W. Field, chairman of the Commissioners of Fisheries and Game, of Massachusetts, spoke on "The Education of the Consumer," and there were talks on the subject of pollution by Dr. A. G. Freeman, of Virginia; and Dr. William Royal Stokes, of Maryland, and W. H. Chew, State Board of Health of New Jersey.

During the afternoon papers were submitted on "Taxation of Oyster Boats," by William H. Maltbie, Shellfish commissioner, Maryland; Charles R. Bacon, chief of the Bureau of Shellfisheries, New Jersey; Commissioner Stubbs, of Louisiana; John A. Craft, president Oyster commission of Alabama; W. L. Harrigan, chairman Board of Fisheries, of South Carolina; Frederick L. Perry, chief clerk Board of Shellfish commissioners, of Connecticut; and Brayton A. Round, chief clerk Board of Shellfish Commissioners, of Rhode Island.

WOMAN FATALLY HURT.

Run Down by Automobile and Dies on Operating Table.

Charlotte, N. C., April 24.—Miss Annie King, a young woman aged 23, was run over by an automobile driven by J. L. Houston, in front of the Dilworth power station yesterday afternoon at 4:40 o'clock and died on the operating table at a local hospital, where she was taken immediately after the accident. Her skull was fractured, arm broken and she was injured internally. It is said by eyewitnesses that the young woman had just stepped from a street car when she was struck by the machine, which, it is alleged, was being driven at a high rate of speed. Houston was arrested on the charge of manslaughter and was admitted to bail in the sum of $5,000, pending a preliminary hearing to be held tomorrow.

Dr. Lloyd, who is 63 years old, is one of the best known men in the Episcopal Church circles of Virginia. He has a son, a missionary to China and his brother, the Rev. Dr. Arthur Selden Lloyd, of New York city, is president of the board of missions of the Protestant Episcopal Church. Attending physicians pronounce Dr. Lloyd's condition critical.

MANY ESCAPE DEATH.

Parents And Children Flee From Burning Buildings.

Monterey, Va., April 25.—Two families, including several children, narrowly escaped being burned to death in a fire which early Sunday morning swept part of the business section of Darbin, Pocahontas county, W. Va., a few miles from this place. The families were asleep over two stores when the flames broke out.

The flames for a while threatened the entire business section and endangered the lives of scores of families. Among the buildings burned were the Eureka Hotel, the furnishing store of Shullman Brothers, the stores of Thomas Cummings and Kenna Rexroad and Kisser's hall.

The fire originated in the Eureka Hotel and is supposed to have been due to the explosion of a lamp. The loss is between $35,000 and $40,000, partly covered by insurance.

FIRE RAGES IN MOUNTAIN.

Men Battle to Protect Farm Houses Much Timber Destroyed.

Winchester, Va., April 24.—Nearly all the eastern side of the Great North Mountain in Frederick county is afire, and scores of men were battling last night with the flames, which are still spreading on account of the timber and undergrowth being dry.

It was kept away from farm houses by all-night work. Vast tracts of valuable timber have been burned, including part of several thousand acres owned by the late Judge John Handley of Scranton, Pa. The fire was caused by Frank Clowser burning brush. While he was at dinner it spread rapidly over the mountain. It is tonight advancing on Hampshire and adjoining West Virginia counties.

A JAIL DELIVERY.

Floyd, Va., April 24.—Flerry Smith and Pled Underwood, who were in jail to answer an indictment made at the last term of court against them for felonious assault upon Mr. O. A. Huff, a prominent merchant of the east end of this county, broke jail yesterday morning at 9 o'clock and are at large. By some means they had secured a bolt about sixteen inches long and managed to remove the bricks below one of the windows with it, until an opening large enough to admit them making their escape was made. Sheriff Harmon was immediately notified and pursuit was made by the sheriff and several citizens. Although fired at they made good their escape and have not been apprehended.

White Man Weds Negress.

Washington, April 24.—Theodore Mason, white, and Mamie Taylor, colored, were married Tuesday night by Rev. W. Westray, colored, a former traveling evangelist. The groom is a laborer, formerly of Manassas, Va., and is of French Canadian descent. He gave his age as 21. The girl resided formerly at Norfolk, Va., and she said she was 20 years old. Both have become residents of Washington. They did not make their address known to the colored clergyman. When the latter was asked for further details of the bridegroom and the ceremony he said he had never met the couple until they came to him Tuesday night and asked him to obtain a marriage license for them and to marry them. Rev. Mr. Westray said he assured himself by close questioning that the man was anxious to marry the girl.

DEMOCRATS CARRY OUT THEIR PROMISES.

The prompt manner in which the present democratic administration has proceeded to carry out the promises made in their platform last summer shows that their planks were not punk but of solid timber, and they have started on the most important measure—that of the tariff—a few weeks after the induction into office of the new President.

The many bogies haunted last fall, calculated to disturb the timid, which prognosticated commercial disturbances, were scarecrows which the great majority of the country refused to heed, and after a month and a half of democratic rule everything seems as stable as ever and "the country is safe."

The democratic majority, heedless of the flocks of cravens which have flown around them, have prepared their tariff bill, and intend to hew to the line, no matter where the chips may fall.

Certain sections of the country seem to lose sight of the fact that the democratic party has the interest of the nation at heart, and that it is time to call a halt upon the organization which has run riot with the government off and on for over half a century; and they purposely blind themselves to the fact that the most serious disturbances to industry, which filled the country with tramps, were during a period when the Republicans were handling the ribbons and when protective tariffs were in force.

In the language of a contemporary, "We have failed to notice any of those cataclysmic disturbances which the standpatters so freely predicted for the nation last fall in the event of a democratic administration. To be sure, we have had the Omaha tornado and the floods in Ohio and the Mississippi Valley, but we doubt if even the most cantankerous republican would care to attribute these to the change of administration."

"What we have witnessed in this most significant period has been a return of the government to greater simplicity. A splendid cabinet has been appointed, every member of which is admirably adapted to his position, so far as we can now see. There has been no disturbance of business. Through the change of power the industrial and political future of the country never looked brighter. The grip upon the government of powerful interests, summed up in the expression special privilege, has been absolutely broken."

"In a word, the democrats have made good their pledges to the people and have confounded the prophets of disaster. President Wilson has fulfilled the highest hopes entertained of him, and the administration has made a splendid start."

WE COULD ALL BE COURTEOUS.

The wise man tells us that "A soft answer turneth away wrath," and an unfortunate incident which occurred in the Senate yesterday could have been avoided had a United States Senator and an employee at the Capitol acted upon the observation.

Senator Meyers, of Montana, was held a prisoner in the elevator between two floors by a conductor, who demanded an apology or fight for an epithet applied to him.

The conductor did not know the Senator when he entered the car. Operating under a Senate rule, he carried other Senators to the floors designated, and kept Meyers bobbing up and down between the top floor and the subway.

When the elevator was emptied of its passengers, the Senator turned upon the conductor, and, using an unnecessary epithet, demanded to be taken to his floor. The conductor asked who he was and what floor he wanted. Stopping between two floors, the conductor turned quietly to Senator Meyers and said:

"No man, I don't care who he is, can use the name to me you have used and get away without an apology or a fight. This car goes no further, until you do one thing or the other."

Senator Meyers reached his office, and Lamb still holds his job.

An incident similar to the above occurred several years ago in the Capitol between a prominent Virginia official and a House employee. The latter did not know the Virginian and failed to extend to him the courtesy his position entitled him to. The Virginian was wroth and in his haste threatened to use his boot on the man.

The Caliph Haroun Al-Raschid often went through the streets of Baghdad incognito. Naturally he had adventures, and sometimes unusual indignities were heaped upon him, notably while a guest in the house of the five ladies of that city as described in the Arabian Nights entertainment. He generally treated such occurrences in a pleasant manner after his identity became known.

GOVERNMENT AFTER MT. VERNON AGAIN.

The acquisition by the Federal government of Mount Vernon, the home of George Washington, is provided for in a joint resolution introduced in the House yesterday by Representative Cary of Wisconsin.

A joint commission of Representatives and Senators is provided for in the resolution, and it is further provided that the commission shall inquire into the expenditures of the Mt. Vernon Ladies' Association of the United States since it acquired control of the estate, and shall submit to Congress an estimate of the cost of the property and the necessary expense of upkeep.

Government acquisition of Mount Vernon, like retrocession, comes periodically. Previous to the civil war the number of visitors to the tomb of Washington was limited. But one trip a week was made to this American Mecca by the old ferry steamer Thomas Collyer. She left Washington and Alexandria every Tuesday morning, and generally towed a long batteau for the purpose of landing passengers, as the water was too shallow for the steamer to reach the wharf.

After the close of the war the steamer Arrow was placed upon the route. She was followed by the W. W. Corcoran and in 1891 by the present steamer, the Charles Maclester.

Upon the completion of the electric railway to Mount Vernon in 1892 the number of people visiting that shrine began to increase, and in 1896, when the road was opened to Washington the number of tourists was augmented an hundred fold.

From 1892 to 1896 a movement was in progress to interest the federal government in the home of Washington, and it was proposed that the property be acquired by the United States and the admission fee abolished. Among those who were prominent in the movement were the late David Turner, who at one time published papers in Alexandria, and the late William H. Snowden.

A quietest of infants was born to Mr. and Mrs. Siles Tinney, who live about five miles from Conklingville, near Luzerne, York, yesterday morning. The five are well and are expected to live. Besides the five just born, Mrs. Tinney has given birth to three pairs of twins, and twice to triplets. They are all living. Tinney is 42 years old and Mrs. Tinney 49.

The locomotive firemen of 54 eastern railroads have won an advance of 10 to 12 per cent in wages, or about $3,000,000 per annum, by the decision of the arbitrators in New York last night. But their demand for two firemen on all heavy engines is denied, although provision is made to have a second fireman put on when necessary.

A REAL ARTIST.

The baseball champs proceed upon their glad and smiling way. They hike across the country, winning victories day by day. Until, at last, they meet Clark Griffith and his warriors fleet, And Walter Johnson trims them in a manner that is neat.

The bold Athletics come upon us every now and then, And they feel like they can beat this king of stalwart baseball men. But the guy who bets against him sadly sneaks home and repents, For Walter Johnson makes Mack's ex-champs look like thirty cents.

Oh, talk about your Matthewson or Walsh or Wood or Plank, But Washington has got the kid on whom the fans all bank. He's worth about a million of those shiny iron rocks. They don't fatten batting averages with Johnson in the box.

We don't know anything about the qualification of that Richmond crowd as jurors, but some of them tell pretty good stories.

LIKE SITUATION IN ARIZONA.

Assembly Determined to Amend Anti-Alien Land Law.

Phoenix, Ariz., April 24.—The Judiciary committee of the Assembly was instructed yesterday to draft amendments to Arizona's Anti-Alien Ownership law, enacted last year, and a situation similar to that in California is forecast by expressions of opinion on the floor. Those favoring the amendment of the law in such a manner as to make its provisions apply only to aliens ineligible for citizenship in the United States apparently were in the majority.

The present law, prohibiting ownership of land in Arizona by any alien has aroused vigorous protest among wealthy Mexicans in the state. Their attention was directed to the law by the California situation. The latter was taken up in the lower house yesterday, and those who desired the rigid enforcement of the present law were outvoted. The amendment desired would exempt foreigners who have already established property rights in the state from the prohibitions of the law and legislators were of the opinion that the intelligibility clause would be inserted.

To The Citizens of Alexandria and R. F. D.'s

As certain candidates have seriously stated that I am out of the race for Postmaster of the city. I desire to correct the error, and to state that while I do not care to annoy my friends or the public by begging signatures to useless petitions, that after 40 years' service to Alexandria and the Democratic party, I am, at least, a receptive candidate for the position, other active candidates to the contrary notwithstanding.

MAKING PRONOUNCED SUCCESS

Edward A. Garlock, of Rosemont, an Important Factor in Washington's Business Life.

One of the rising young men of our community, while not a native of Virginia but a resident by choice, is yet to be heard from. This gentleman, Mr. Edward Allen Garlock, was born and raised in Winona, Minn. Attended the common schools of his town and went to Purdue University, Lafayette, Indiana, and to the University of Maine, at Orono, Maine.

After graduating he spent several years in the banking offices of his father, gaining knowledge that has proven more valuable than can be expressed in dollars and cents. Feeling the call of the East, he answered four years ago and settled in Washington, D. C.

Noting the excellent opportunity in Washington for a young man of hustling proclivities Mr. Garlock entered the automobile business and within the short span of four years he has, through his untiring efforts, built the Imperial Motor Company from a mere name to one of the strongest financially and best known firms in Dixie. Mr. Garlock was the sole owner of this concern and recently sold it to the Imperial Motor Tire Company showing the new owners the handsome profits which were possible through hard work and close attention to business.

Having been thus far successful and believing absolutely in the future of Washington and vicinity, Mr. Garlock organized the Garlock Company, a private banking corporation with principal offices in Washington and later with offices throughout the Southern States. In this enterprise Mr. Garlock is active manager and vice-president.

It is understood that in addition to his own resources he is being backed in his new venture by his mother, together with other powerful interests, and that while the company has a modest capitalization, it will be strong enough financially to enable it to successfully undertake propositions of considerable magnitude.

Mr. Garlock is a young man with the ability to decide important questions quickly; he has a great deal of and in his make-up, never gets rattled when hard pressed, and no matter the odds against him, he never doubts his ability to come out right as master of the situation.

Although young, he has won the admiration and respect of everyone with whom he has had business dealing, and while some enemies have predicted and hoped for his ruin, none have ever been able to find anything detrimental to either his character or methods of doing business. He loves responsibility, and the more he has on his shoulders the happier he apparently is.

In an interview this morning Mr. Garlock spoke in glowing terms of the possibilities of the South, and showed a keen grasp on the affairs of the day. "In my observations," Mr. Garlock stated, "the prospects for big crops, particularly cotton and tobacco, together with the stand the present administration is taking on important questions, points to a new era of prosperity that will exceed our most sanguine expectations. The South is now coming into its own."

When the Washington Automobile Association was formed with the idea of giving the residents of Washington and vicinity an opportunity of viewing the "latest styles" in motor cars, Mr. Garlock was one of the most active, contributing unselfishly his time and money. As a reward he was unanimously elected secretary of the Association. Again, as one of the leading spirits of the Columbia Country Club of Chevy Chase, Md., Mr. Garlock has done much to make this the leading young men's club in this section of the country.

Just recently Mr. Garlock purchased a beautiful residence in Rosemont, the garden spot of Virginia. His home is presided over by his charming mother, and together with his two attractive sisters, the Misses Florence and Ellen, the true Western hospitality dispensed, is inviting. Not yet turned twenty-six years of age, Mr. Garlock is voted a most gracious host and a gentleman bred and born.

Mr. Edward Allen Garlock was graduated from Purdue University in 1908, receiving the degree of electrical engineer. He is a director in several of Washington's flourishing firms and is a member of various clubs, including the Columbia Country Club, Commercial Club, of Washington, Beta Theta Pi fraternity, secretary of the Washington Automobile Dealers' Association, of Purdue Alumni Association and active in several of the tennis and dancing clubs.

He is modest and unassuming and is enthusiastic over automobilism and motor boating. He owns the boat "Eva," which holds all records for her class in the Potomac. In his White "six" last fall, Mr. Garlock drove from New York to Washington setting a record for time that has never been equalled. He also holds the road record from Cleveland to Washington.

We venture to predict that within a few years the name of Edward Allen Garlock will be known at the topmost financial circles of the South, and if he always uses his opportunities and position not merely for personal gain, but with due regards of the rights of others we sincerely wish our neighbor all success possible.
